Workforce Wellbeing Programme

Workforce wellbeing has never been more important than now

Confidential support | 0800 6300 443 | Available 24/7

Racing's Support Line

RSL is an employee assistance programme, offering advice and support on many aspects of both home and work life in addition to a full range of emotional support.

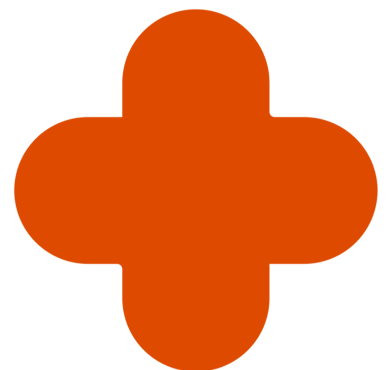

Mental Health

The mental health service is here to provide education, preventative support services and, where clinically appropriate, treatment for mental health issues, including addiction support.

Racing's Occupational Health Service

ROHS is there to support people to remain at work and to enable them to return to work from periods of absence.
